Texas A&M University's Dr Wayne Hayenga and Estate Planning in Gonzales Friday, Oct. 15

The estate planning workshop got fabulous reviews at the Independent Cattlemen's Association of Texas (ICA) convention in June, and now, the show is on the road for the community! On Friday, Oct. 15, Dr. Wayne Hayenga, professor emeritus with Texas A&M University, attorney and nationally recognized speaker, will be in Gonzales to share his wit and wisdom about protecting assets for individuals, the family and heirs. In practical, easy-to-understand language, Dr. Hayenga will discuss the six vital documents—including living wills, power of attorney, ultimate medical directive, the nomination of a guardian, and wills and trusts—that every adult should consider for their legal arsenal to protect themselves in case of illness, incapacitation or death.

“Dr. Hayenga’s presentation at the ICA convention was extremely popular and is especially timely now that ‘death taxes’ will be phased back in, beginning in January,” said Bill Hyman, ICA executive director. “Everyone needs to be prepared for disaster—and that includes the personal eventualities of life. We are extremely fortunate that Dr. Hayenga could fit this meeting into his schedule, as he is in such demand, not only in Texas, but around the country.”

“This workshop is open to the entire community and surrounding counties, as a joint public service of the ICA, Central Texas ICA All-Breed Bull and Female Sale, and the Gonzales Chamber of Commerce,” said W. R. “Billy Bob” Low, cattle sale manager. “Registration is only $10 and includes lunch, and the information to be presented is so valuable, it could save ranchers, business and home owners thousands and thousands of dollars. The afternoon session is the best investment anyone can make this year.”

The workshop will be at the American Legion at 1612 Robertson Street in Gonzales and will begin at 10 a.m. with a free bonus pesticide training update for ranchers or business owners who need continuing education credits. Lunch, included in the $10 registration fee, will be served at 11:30 a.m., and Dr. Hayenga’s estate planning session will run from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. “Pre-registration is crucial, so plenty of materials, seating and food will be available,” said Low. “To sign up for the workshop, call the ICA office in Lockhart at 512-620-0162.”
